

Total Health Seminars

Parkview Total Health offers a variety of seminars each year to area employers. These seminars are offered at no cost and address topics of importance, or which were specifically requested by past attendees. Please plan to join us for the Healthy Business Matters seminar series in 2010. To insure that you receive your invitation or to submit ideas for topics, call (260) 373-9017.

“The annual employer seminars hosted by Parkview Total Health bring valuable information to area employers. I am committed to stay involved and enjoy partnering with area employers to improve the financial, physical and mental health of our communities.”

Mike Packnett, President/CEO
